Here's What's Happening This Week

And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength. Mark 12:30

This Week In Sunday school

This week our Sunday Schoolers learned the beginning of the story of Moses. They learned how his mother made the painful decision to send him away so he could avoid the horrible fate of execution.

We learned that he was recovered by Pharaoh's daughter and raised as royalty. Later Moses would lead his people out of bondage on their journey to the Promised Land.

The kids made "Moses baskets" and fans telling the story above. We hope to see them again next week as we continue to learn about God's Word.

When I read a scripture that's always been there, but I'm just now understanding the deepness of it.

Bible Study

Last week we dove into Chapter 16 of Luke's Gospel. This week we will continue in that chapter. As Luke chronicles Jesus' mission, these later chapters take on new emphasis of Kingdom work over traditional religion. Jesus does not hate religion, but he does hate when the traditions and practices begin to take on more meaning than the work of the Kingdom.

We see this theme repeated many times over in Luke. Most clearly perhaps, when Jesus is admonished by the authorities for performing healing miracles on the Sabbath. Work is of course prohibited on the Sabbath but the greater act of love in healing is more clearly Kingdom work than to allow someone to suffer a moment longer than necessary.

Luke's Gospel is unique in that it was not written by a layman, but rather a trained physician writing to his friend or mentor Theophyllus. Luke wrote as an historian, meticulously gathering detailed eyewitness reports to account for the stories of Jesus Christ's ministry. Luke was a prolific writer also being responsible for the Book of Acts.

Join us as we explore this rich text. We meet Monday mornings in the adult Sunday school room at 10:30.
